ROUGH STOCK PLANKS (RAW)

100% RECLAIMED

These rough stock planks tell a unique story all their own and add instant character and appeal to any residential or commercial project.

We have a large supply of reclaimed rough sawn planks, formerly joists and beams in historic structures. Varying in thickness, width and length, these planks have old original patina, nail holes, saw marks and other authentic markings. These planks are beautifully worn from years of exposure to the elements and their size and thickness make them ideal for residential or commercial use as table tops, bar tops, islands, benches, shelving and more. Availability and exact sizes vary, so please contact a sales rep for more info on these unique products.
