SHOU SUGI BAN – FEATURING WESTERN RED CEDAR WOOD

Yorokobi by Reclaimed DesignWorks features charred Cypress burnt in the Japanese style of shou sugi ban. Yorokobi can be used for interior or exterior wall cladding and is standardly select tight knot grade.

Yorokobi is carefully charred, misted with water, cooled, brushed and then stained/sealed. The top coat sealer is applied prior to shipping (for exterior applications, we recommend sealing the back side as well as the face). The burning process accentuates the wood grain and creates varying colors when viewed from different angles and in different light.

DISTINCTIVE ATTRIBUTES

Yorokobi is made with cypress sourced from the Southern United States and can be used for interior wall cladding, ceiling cladding and exterior siding. With its legendary beauty and natural durability, cypress has long been a staple as an exterior wood siding product. Because cypress generates its own preservative oil, called cypressene, it's an ideal wood for locations with constant heat, humidity, and torrential rains.
