SHOU SUGI BAN – FEATURING CYPRESS WOOD

Moyasu by Reclaimed DesignWorks features charred cypress burnt in the Japanese style of shou sugi ban. Moyasu is recommended for interior wall cladding – please call to discuss exterior applications. Moyasu is available in select grade or #2 common grade cypress. The higher the grade, the better it is felt the wood will perform.

Moyasu is carefully charred, misted with water, cooled, brushed and then stained/sealed. The top coat sealer is applied prior to shipping (for exterior applications, we recommend sealing the back side as well as the face). The burning process accentuates the wood grain and creates varying colors when viewed from different angles and in different light.

DISTINCTIVE ATTRIBUTES

Moyasu is made with cypress sourced from the Southern United States and can be used for interior wall cladding, and ceiling cladding. With its legendary beauty and natural durability, cypress has long been a staple as an exterior wood siding product.
